Glad to see at least that my brother's lack of drive and ambition means the ol' crew isn't up to too much trouble!

Trudy, it's you! You're alive!

Takes more than a scrape with a sibling or so to off me.

Though pains me to admit...

I might pay for sticking my neck out like this to save a human.

Trudy's passé, pal! Do me two favors. Call me Parmesan! Also. Put on this costume. I don't want to attract any additional trouble.

A... bunny costume?

Works miracles for you humans. Slap it on and toons think you're like them. Fools even me, little dude.

I don't need that. Check this out, I can be a toon, too!

Yeah, nah.
Get in the bunny suit.
What do I have the honor of calling ya?
Toma, sir!
Aw, Toma, you look absolutely adorable!
Toma, my man, I'm not cut out to be king. I got bigger dreams, and those dreams are bringing my PASSION to this starving city.
By passion, I mean a booming business!
Whoa! What kind of business kingdom you cook up? I bet it's some sort of sky-high sky. . .castle!

Nah, Toma, got your head in the clouds! Gotta be where the real passion and people are.

The streets!

A nice lil' corner shop, where we make and ship all sorts of designer cheeses to all over the city. Welcome to my real abode: Parmesan's!

Humble, right?

We'll get ya introduced proper. Feel free to take a look around.

Ain't much to really see as we're really all about getting deliveries in and out, but I think it's pretty cool.

You're here, too!?

Ay, Parmesan! Who's the new bunny recruit?
Kinda a cutie!
Uh, Ace... sorry about earlier.
Are we good?
No we're not! You and I are going to talk later. Parmesan's going to be dealing with you in the meantime!
A-HAHA!
Oh, you betcha I'm going to deal with this new guest the only way I know how.
